Social Security Disability Attorneys Serving The Chicago Region

Facing the challenges presented by a disability is difficult. Few can manage it on their own. Many have to rely on family members to help them overcome particular hurdles. Disability benefits such as Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI or SSD) and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) can help individuals who are living with disabilities face those challenges more readily.

The Law Offices of Jeffrey A. Rabin & Associates, Ltd., serves clients in Chicago, Des Plaines, Naperville, Aurora, Joliet, Rockford, Cicero, Elgin, Evanston, Arlington Heights, Schaumburg, Wheaton, Libertyville, Winfield, Waukegan, Cook County, Lake County, DuPage County, Will County, McHenry County, Kane County, Kendall County, DeKalb County, Boone County and throughout the Chicagoland area and Illinois.

Unfortunately, Social Security Disability benefit applications call for not only incredibly detailed information in order to qualify, but the information should also be presented in very specific ways to be successful. Further, should the initial application not be accepted, the process of reconsideration and appeal can be very complex, and any missteps can lead to a substantial delay in receiving benefits or possibly outright denial.

Securing the representation of a skilled and experienced attorney to help shepherd your case is often the best choice you can make. Please contact our Chicago SSD law firm online today, or by calling 847-299-0008, to schedule a free initial consultation. Our experienced team of Social Security attorneys can help you get the benefits you deserve. Don't face your case without our law firm behind you. Don't fight alone!
